Hello partners:
As we come to the end of this year, I wanted to summarize what was accomplished in one of the craziest and most challenging years we have ever had! God has been working in the lives of people throughout this year. We continued to focus on our vision: Evangelism, Equipping, and Educating. I would like to give an overview of what God did throughout this year.

Educating
In January, we were fortunate to have another large event at The Ohio State University. Dr. Frank Turek came back to do his presentation called “I Don’t Have Enough To Be An Atheist.” We had a packed house of 500 people. It was a great night, and we were so blessed to be able to have this event.

Equipping
We have had close to 40 equipping sessions this year. When COVID-19 became an issue, campuses shut down. For us, we managed to finish out much of the year at Ohio State and Columbus State before they shut down after Spring Break. After the shutdown, we immediately decided to do our weekly apologetic equipping meetings on Zoom. We ended up carrying on with the meetings and even continued through the summer as well. With all the local churches closed, I thought it was important to have a place for people to come to every week. We had the opportunity to have several scholars on our calls such as Dr. Michael Licona, Dr. Craig Blomberg, Dr. Darrell Bock, Dr. Michael Brown, Neil Shenvi, Jonathan McLathchie, Dr. Tim Stratton, Ted Wright, Dr. Clay Jones, Dr. Justin Bass, Robert Bowman, Alicia Childers, and others. If you go to my YouTube channel (Eric Chabot), you can click on any of these names, and it will take you to the clip. Here is a picture of some of our guests.

Evangelism
We spoke to 630 people this year about the Gospel. From August to the end of November, we talked to 440 people and saw 27 people make first-time commitments to Jesus as their Lord. If we add this to the people we spoke to the rest of the year, we talked to 630 people this year about the Gospel and answered their questions. At the start of the year, we saw a student come to faith in the Lord. So technically, we did see 28 people come to faith this year. Given the state of our nation, there is no doubt that people are more open to spiritual things.

We had between 60 to 70 discipleship/mentoring one-on-one meetings. I am discipling a young man we led to the Lord at Ohio State named Cameron. It is going well, and he is attending a local church on campus.

Final Thoughts
As we close the year, we are so grateful to God for the good weather we had this fall on campus. We are thankful for the opportunity to have students back on campus and the divine appointments He gave us. We are also grateful for the new people that attended our Zoom meetings. Most of all, we are so appreciative for all of you that have been praying and partnering with us through such a challenging season. As I said, God’s work has continued, and He is drawing many people to Himself.

If you want to make an end of the year gift, we would deeply appreciate it. Our end of the year gifts are what helps us to go forward in the new year! May the Lord bless you during this season!

May the Lord bless you in 2021!

Blessings!
